

TM

TEMPEST

THE SOUNDTRACK

The video game that defined arcade intergalactic warfare has officially warped into the 64-bit dimension. Tempest 2000 utilizes all the monster power of the

JAGUAR harboring unbridled 3D polygons, particle

displays, Melt-D-Vision™

graphics, and a screaming

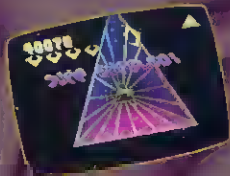

techno-soundtrack.

...plus four all

new high velocity modes of blistering gameplay.

Originally scored for Tempest 2000™

"...In my opinion (Tempest 2000) beats Tetris as the most addictive game ever."
—Glenn Rubenstein, San Francisco Examiner

"It's engulfing, it's enthralling and it sounds freakin' amazing as it rocks and talks. All this is housed in a cartridge."
—Die Hard Game Fan, March '94

Mesmerizing CD-quality techno-rave soundtrack provides a hypnotic intensity to the already addictive gameplay

Four screaming game modes:

Traditional Tempest takes the arcade classic to the 64th power. Tempest Plus lets gamers combine forces and light up the walls with a buddy or an A.I. Boid.

Tempest 2000 launches the gamer through 100 uncharted galaxies, each filled with meaner enemies and power ups, including Demon Heads and warp Bonus Teleports.

Tempest Dual unleashes the gamer on the most formidable alien of them all—a friend.

For information on the Atari JAGUAR dealer nearest you, call 1-800-GO-ATARI

TEMPEST™

THE SOUNDTRACK

1: Thermal Resolution	3:50	7: Future Tense	5:54
2: Mind's Eye	4:52	8: Digital Terror	5:07
3: 128	5:23	9: Hyper Prism	4:26
4: Ease Yourself	7:52	10: Glide Control	5:32
5: Tracking Depth	5:04	11: Ultra Yak	4:00
6: Constructive Demolition	4:05	12: 2000 Dub	7:31

Originally scored for Tempest 2000
on the Atari JAGUAR 64-BIT Interaction Multimedia System

ATARI®

JAGUAR

© 1994 Atari Corporation. Executive Producer: John Stouth. Produced by Imagine Design Inc. ICD Multiforms and Ian Howe, Atari's Unimag. Kevin Seville and Julian Hodgson. Production Director: James Grunka. No names were misbrated or injured during the making of this compact disc. Atari and Jaguar are trademarks or registered trademarks of Atari Corporation. All rights reserved. Made in the USA.